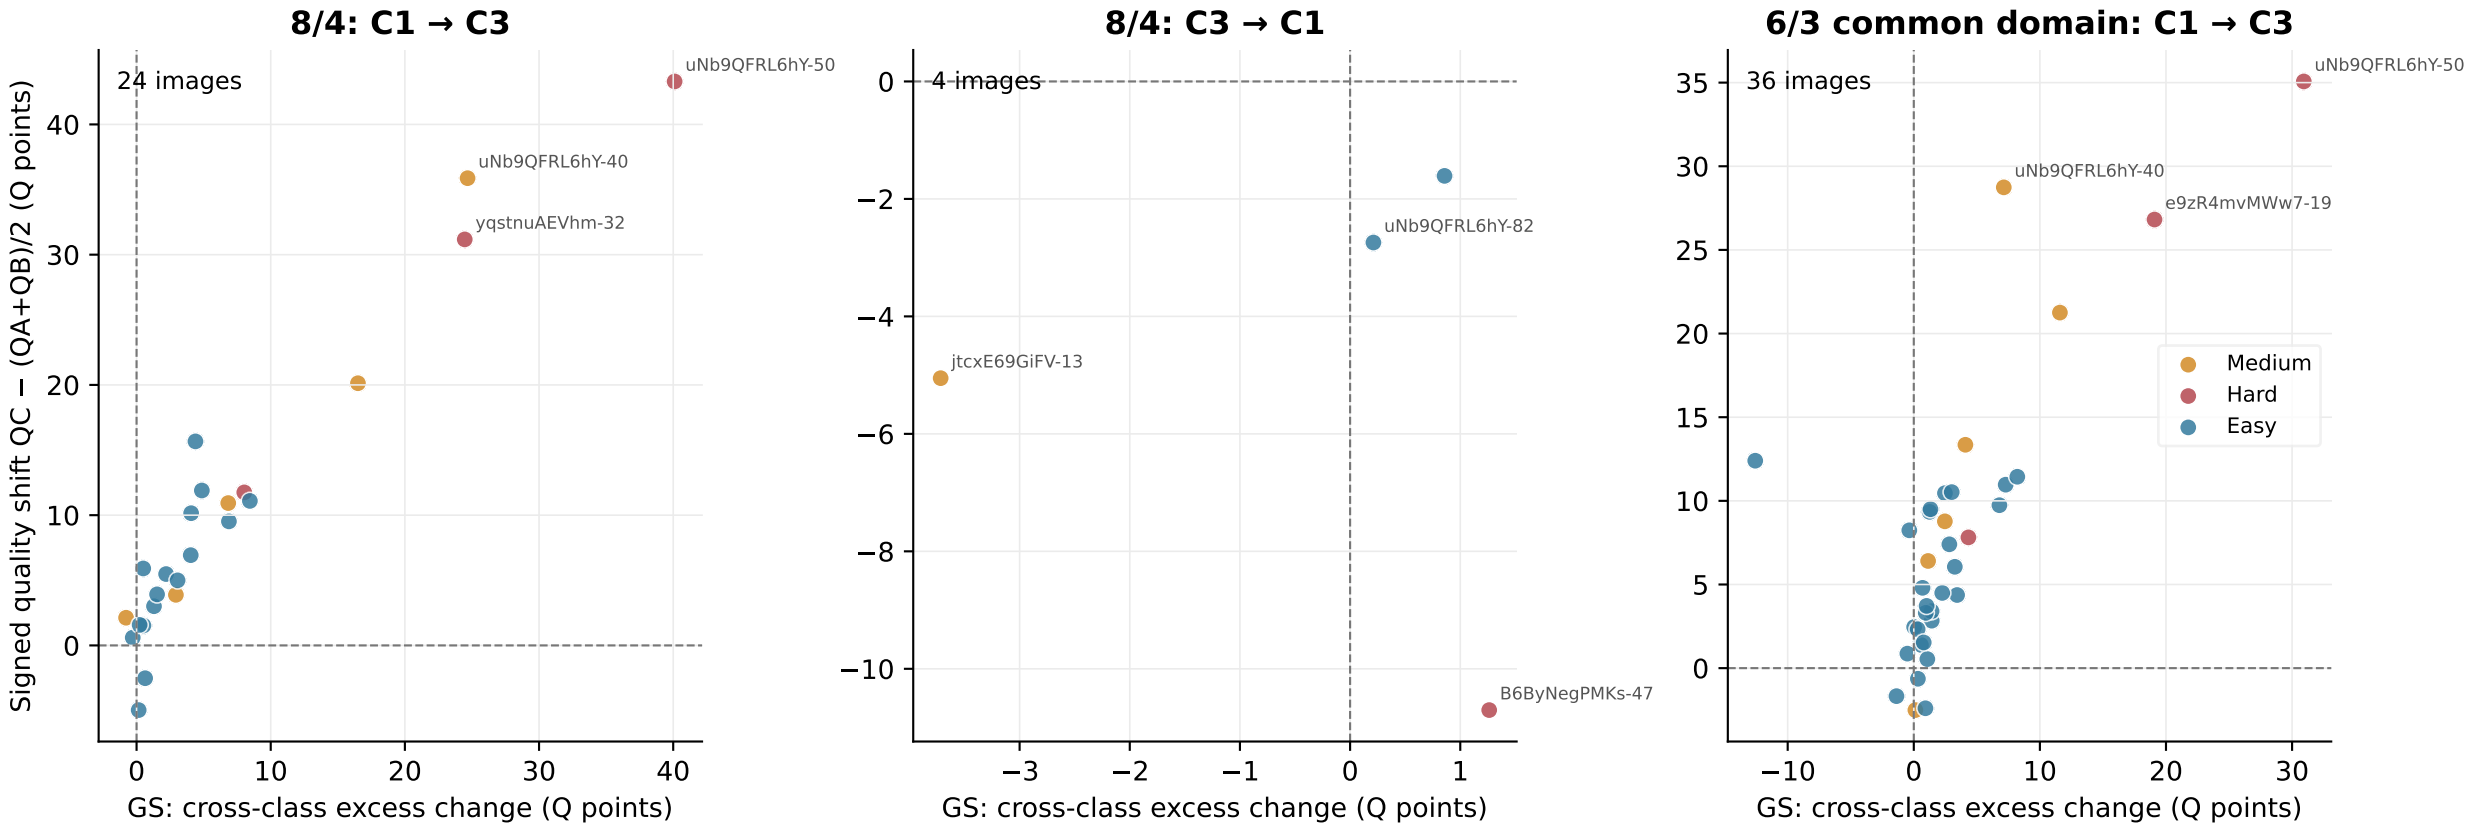
Greater change and better quality answer different questions



Each point is one image after target-slot, background and block averaging. Positive vertical values favor the incoming class.
The two 8/4 directions use different images; the 6/3 panel uses a shared four-endpoint domain.